

Dates for Bachelor's final examinations for the Bachelor of Psychology

Exam weeks 2025/2026

Sigmund Freud PrivateUniversity

The Bachelor's examinations will take place every two to three months during the semester starting in the summer semester 2025. In order to register for an examination week, you must submit an application to register for the final examination (you can find this on SIGI). All other deadlines are calculated retrospectively from the examination week; it is the student's responsibility to calculate these dates backwards and meet them. The application must be completed in full and must already contain the agreed examination literature with first and second examiners. The agreed examination literature must be signed by the examiners and students (see application form for registration for the final examination).
